

Q Did you build any other buildings on that lot?

A Yes, built a coal house. I have a hog pen.

Q George, I understand all you are claiming is the two chicken houses and the garage?

A Well, that will be all right.

Q You are not claiming the coal house or hog pen?

A No, sir.

CROSS EXAM. BY MR. DELAUTER:

Q When did you build the chicken houses, Mr. Corum?

A Well, the one, the old one that was there set up in the yard - that was during Mr. Smith's time and that dilapidated - no chickens in it. Then I built the one on the lower end of the lot, and if anyone can remember when they built this bridge at the creek, that is where I bought the timber.

Q About how long ago was it?

A I judge seven or eight years.

Q Did the one take the place of the old one?

A No, that was gone.

Q The old one was gone? A. Yes.

Q You say you just laid posts on the ground and set the sills on the posts?

A Yes, about that long and that deep (indicating). The sills are right on top of it.

Q The garage you say is not fastened in any way?

A No, sir, that is on top of where we leveled off the yard.

Q (Mr. Harp) What was the condition of the old chicken house; how big was it when you went there?

A It was about, as near as I remember, about 8 by 10. It had fallen over. No chickens; we had no chickens.

Q Could it be used? A. No, sir.

Q How big a chicken house did you build?

A The first one was 12 by 14. Then I put up my brooder
